Announcement

As we head into the busy Holiday season we would like to make sure you are “in the know”. We are very excited to spend our first winter in our new facility and our upcoming camps and clinics are ready to sign up for! Our goal remains to be the very best developmental facility in Utah. In order to achieve our goal we need a complete “buy in” from every member that trains with AND their families as well. When our academy members come home from a workout or lesson we ask you to have them reiterate what they learned that day and ask them how they plan to improve it. What we want them thinking daily is - “How do i get better today?” - and then doing something. It can be mental or physical, but the only way to be a better version of yourself in 2019 is to commit to the everyday process. No matter the season you must strive to improve daily and we look forward to improving as an Academy this year!
